Spring's End Brings Surcease

THE arrival of June has brought the long spring season to a close, and tired hostesses can settle back in easy chairs and contemplate their past endeavors with speculative eyes. In many ways it has proved an exceptionally gay season, and many residents of the Capital City are glad of an opportunity to get a much-needed rest.

May has been a busy month socially; first came the National Capital Horse Show, then the White House garden parties, Mrs. Bryan's garden party, the numerous outdoor affairs given for local charities, all of which were well attended by fashionable society; the "Race Meet" at Benning, and dinners and luncheons too numerous to mention. It is no wonder that jaded nerves need a rest cure, and so, in spite of the ideal weather, Washington is commencing to resemble a deserted village. All through the fashionable Northwest houses are being boarded up and present a forsaken appearance. The June exodus has begun.

For the next four weeks Washingtonians will turn their undivided attention to the bride, for weddings promise to be very numerous at the National Capital during this beautiful month of June. It is to be hoped that the weather will keep as cool and delightful as it has been throughout May. Weddings with Mercury soaring above 90 degrees are trying on all concerned, and especially so on the bridegroom, be he in heavy uniform or conventional frock coat.

The weddings of this week are both numerous and interesting, and three of them are naval weddings.

Wednesday, "the best day of all," will see three important weddings. Miss Katherine Crane, one of the prettiest of the debutantes of four years ago, and Mr. Harold Brown, of Plainfield, N. J., will be married at high noon at St. Alban's Church. The bride will have as her two attendants Miss Estelle Crane and Miss Marion Brown, of Plainfield, N. J. A wedding breakfast will follow at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. J. Burnet Crane.

Miss Alice Maude Simpson, another bride of Wednesday, daughter of Mrs. G. Warfield Simpson, will marry Ensign John McFall Sylvester, U. S. N., at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church at 8 o'clock in the evening. The bridegroom is the son of Maj. and Mrs. Richard Sylvester.

A wedding of much interest to Washingtonians is that of Miss Beall Daingerfield, one of the belles of Alexandria, Va., whose marriage to Ensign Henry Le Bourgeois, U. S. N., will also take place on Wednesday at St. Paul's Church in Alexandria. The ceremony will be followed by a reception at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. William Bathurst Daingerfield. Ensign Le Bourgeois is a nephew of Mrs. Herbert Wadsworth, of this city, and a brother of Mr. Bush Le Bourgeois, of New Orleans, and a son of the late Mr. Charles Le Bourgeois, one of the prominent sugar planters of Louisiana.

Another naval wedding will take place in Washington on Saturday, when Miss Lelia May Henry, daughter of Representative Robert Lee Henry of Texas and Mrs. Henry, and Ensign Harold Perry Parmelee, who graduates this year from the United States Naval Academy, will be married at the home of the bride's parents in Nineteenth Street at 7:30 o'clock. The Rev. William W. McMaster, of the First Baptist Church, will officiate. Miss May Armstrong, of West Pittston, Pa., will be Miss Henry's maid of honor, and Ensign Bruce Leighton, U. S. N., will be best man.

A delightful event of tomorrow evening will be the reception given by the Woman's National Democratic League, in celebration of the league's first birthday anniversary. The reception will take place in the parlor of the New Willard, and it is expected that among the many distinguished guests will be the President and Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Thomas R. Marshall, Mrs. William Jennings Bryan, Senator and Mrs. Thomas Gore, and Representative and Mrs. Oscar Underwood.

All roads will lead to the Children's Country Home in Grant Road tomorrow afternoon, for Washington society takes a keen interest in the annual "tea" given at the institution. The tea this year will be followed by a subscription dance in the evening. Among those who will participate in the fun are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Munn, Jr., Miss Gladys Munn, Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds Hitt, Mr. and Mrs. Wolcott Tuckerman, Miss Ethel Noyes, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wilcox, Miss Margaret Perin, Mr. and Mrs. Elaine Elkins, Miss Katherine Elkins, Mr. Oliver Harriman, Miss Catharine Britton, Mr. William Hitt, Viscount Henri de Sibour, Mr. Franklin Ellis, Mr. John Cotton Smith, Capt. Louis Little, Mr. Butler Ames, and Mr. Basil Miles.
